Art Unit: 3641

1. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:
 - I. Claims 1-23, drawn to a method of manufacturing a projectile, classified in class 86, subclass 55.
 - II. Claims 24-34, drawn to a projectile, classified in class 102, subclass 517.
 - III. Claims 35-38, drawn to a method of manufacturing a round of ammunition, classified in class 86, subclass 18.
 - IV. Claims 39-40, drawn to a cartridge, classified in class 102, subclass 439.
2. The inventions are distinct, each from the other because:
3. Inventions I and II are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case, the projectile could be made absent a die cavity that compresses a light metal powder at approximately room temperature. Further, the method could be used to make a projectile other than one that contains a cup-shaped jacket and/or a first discrete compact disc having a substantially cylindrical body portion between first and second ends.
4. Inventions IV and II are related as combination and subcombination. Inventions in this relationship are distinct if it can be shown that (1) the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed for patentability, and (2) that the subcombination has utility by itself or in other combinations (MPEP § 806.05(c)). In the instant case, the combination as claimed does not require the particulars of the subcombination as claimed as evidenced by claims 30 and 39 (Bsp and ABbr). The subcombination has separate utility such as utility with a different type of cartridge case and/or absent a cartridge case.

5. Inventions III and IV are related as process of making and product made. The inventions are distinct if either or both of the following can be shown: (1) that the process as claimed can be used to make other and materially different product or (2) that the product as claimed can be made by another and materially different process (MPEP § 806.05(f)). In the instant case, the cartridge could be made incompletely filling said jacket adjacent the open end void of compacts. Further, the method could be used to make a cartridge whose projectile extends into the case a distance other than about 35%.

6. Because these inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their different classification and their recognized divergent subject matter, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

7. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

8. Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to Stephen M. Johnson whose telephone number is 703-306-4158. The examiner can normally be reached on Tuesday through Friday. If attempts to reach the examiner by telephone are unsuccessful, the examiner's supervisor, Michael Carone can be reached on 703-306-4198.
